Le richieste di personale selezionate da EURES Regione Umbria

EURES (EUROpean Employment Services - Servizi Europei per l'Impiego) è una rete di cooperazione tra i servizi per l'impiego dei paesi dello Spazio Economico Europeo (paesi dell'Unione Europea più Norvegia, Islanda e Lichtenstein), la Svizzera e altre organizzazioni partner.

La rete è coordinata dalla Commissione Europea e, a livello nazionale, dal Ministero del Lavoro/ANPAL.

EURES offre servizi di informazione, orientamento, incontro domanda-offerta di lavoro e si rivolge alle imprese e alle persone alla ricerca di un lavoro.

I cittadini interessati a lavorare nei 32 paesi aderenti possono accedere al Portale Europeo della Mobilità Professionale <https://ec.europa.eu/eures/public/it/homepage> per avere informazioni sulle condizioni di vita e lavoro e conoscere tutte richieste di personale disponibili o contattare lo staff EURES: <http://www.regione.umbria.it/lavoro-e-formazione/i-servizi-eures>

La conoscenza di altre lingue è fondamentale per cercare lavoro in un altro paese, per questa ragione la maggior parte delle offerte sono pubblicate nella lingua richiesta.

Ashmolean Museum

Ashmolean-Getty Paper Project Research Fellow Ashmolean Museum, Beaumont Street, Oxford Grade 7: £31,604 - £38,833 p.a. You will be an early career researcher who holds a PhD/DPhil in History of Art and is committed to a curatorial career in the field of old master drawings. You will have specialist knowledge in an area of Italian 15th - 18th-century drawings, together with a general knowledge of Italian art; familiarity with the Ashmolean's drawings collection will be advantageous. You will have some experience of object-centred drawings research and museum scholarship, possibly through having held a curatorial internship. You will be aware of issues around collections care and conservation, and will have a strong interest in connoisseurship and drawings scholarship. You will have excellent organisational and communication skills, proficiency in the Italian language, and the ability to manage varying demands efficiently. You will have excellent IT skills with the capacity to use the MuseumPlus collections database. This is the first of two successive Research Fellowships enabling the development of curatorial skills and expertise in drawings scholarship and connoisseurship, in addition to the academic experience already gained with a doctoral degree. You will carry out research and writing as part of a major project of cataloguing the Ashmolean's Italian drawings collection, working closely with the Keeper of Western Art and consulting with other drawings specialists. Your duties will include activities relating to cataloguing, interpreting and documenting the Italian drawings collections; research travel; digitisation; and student and public engagement. Based in the Department of Western Art, you will collaborate on the project with curators, collections staff, conservators and other colleagues across the Museum. The Research Fellows are supported by the Getty Foundation as part of The Paper Project, an initiative focused on training and professional development in prints and drawings curatorship. This is a fixed-term post for 18 months; we hope the successful applicant can start as soon as possible. The Ashmolean Museum has been described as "unquestionably the finest university museum in the world" (The Times, 29 October 2009). The Museum is a part of the Oxford University Museums Group and houses the University's collections of art and archaeology together with objects and works owned by other private individuals and bodies and loaned to it. The collections themselves are of world significance. They range from archaeology to the fine and decorative arts of Europe and Asia and from coins to casts of classical sculpture. These are used for teaching and research purposes both within the University and in the worldwide academic and research communities. Above all, the Ashmolean is a great public Museum, open to all without charge. All applications must be made online. You will be required to upload a CV and a Supporting Statement as part of your application. The closing date for applications is 12.00 noon on Friday 5 October 2018. Interviews are scheduled to take place at the Ashmolean Museum on Monday 29 October 2018 and you must be available on this date. Please note in normal circumstances only interview travel expenses within the UK will be reimbursed. Interviews may be arranged by Skype.

Job Description

Danfoss Power Solutions - a world-class provider of mobile hydraulics for the construction, agriculture, and other off-highway vehicle markets - is a segment of the Danfoss Group and provides the power our changing world needs to thrive. We are currently looking for a Customer Service Representative (m/f) for our Neumuenster, Germany or Nordborg, Denmark location.

The position will be on a temporary basis (12-months employment).

About this Job: As a Customer Service Representative, you will be an active member of our Customer Service process, striving for excellent customer satisfaction. In this role, you are the first point of contact for our customers in the EMEA region. Consequently, you will handle all incoming orders, specify delivery terms and pricing info. You will also provide customers with product and service information and answer all incoming queries.

Key responsibilities

- Serve as the primary order contact for our EMEA customers
- Verify incoming orders, pricing and terms of delivery as well as availability of products
- Partner and co-ordinate with the Danfoss international manufacturing sites to ensure timely delivery of products
- Confirm orders with customers, answer incoming queries and respond to customer needs
- Provide your internal stakeholders with the highest level of support on all aspects from order processing to product delivery
- Support the external Sales Team
- Build and maintain a strong internal network to provide best customer support

Essential Knowledge and Experience

- 'A passion to serve customers!' with a strong sense of customer service and for customer needs
- Team player with a willingness to be an active supporter of our European order management
- Experience in a similar customer service role in industry, distribution, logistics or equivalent segment
- Strong service and excellent customer-oriented communication skills
- Extremely flexible, self-organized and able to work under pressure
- Diplomatic and sensitive when serving customers of a different mentality and culture

Qualifications

- Educational background in business administration or equivalent work experience
- Ideally good SAP/R3 skills including EDI as well as Salesforce
- Excellent written and verbal communication skills in English
- Good knowledge of another European language is a plus (such as French, Italian, Swedish or Finnish)

Join our team and help us release the potential of this amazing world. We look forward to discovering how you want to have an impact on tomorrow! For further information about the position please contact our Talent Acquisition Specialist, Eva Isselstein at +49 461 4301 4623. Please apply at your earliest convenience. We do not have an application deadline but accept applications as long as the job is posted. The position will be closed once we have found the right candidate.
